Seeds of Hope Scotland Serena Cowdy History, 1998

We began as a not-for-profit initiative at the beginning of the 2020 COVID-19 pandemic. We sent over 10,000 packets of wildflower seeds – each attached to a postcard – to vulnerable and isolated folk in Scotland. We then transitioned into operating as a social enterprise, and now sell our 'seed packet + postcard' packages to organisations who want to thank staff or volunteers, engage with stakeholders, reward school pupils, or make customers feel valued. We put 10% of the money we make into our 'good cause pot', to fund future seed giveaways.
